Troubling Times Require Greater CWCF Help

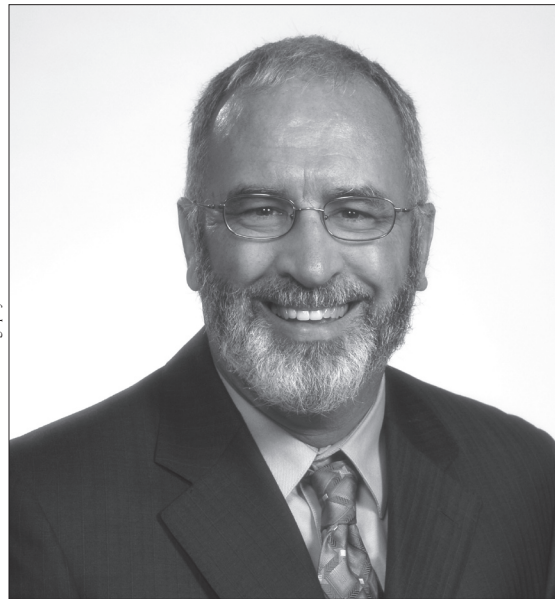

In these very tumultuous economic times, the Central Washington Catholic Foundation (CWCF) gave away $96,050.49 in grants and scholarships to worthy Catholic causes last quarter – the highest single payout ever in the Catholic Foundation's short history.

This quarter, for the first time ever, the Board of Trustees chose to sponsor three grant proposals beyond named fund recipients. These grants went to worthy Catholic causes in our greater community.

Catholic Charities Housing Services received $1,500 for a computer lab for Casa Guadalupe in Chelan County. Reach Youth Ministry in Cowiche received $1,500 for staff laptop computers. In Ellensburg, St. Andrew's Catholic Church received $475 for record-keeping software for their parish and Religious Education programs.

The deadline for the next round of grant proposals is January 15, 2009.

Evan Jones Brings CWCF New Leadership

Tri-Cities resident becomes the seventh Chairman of the Board of Trustees for the Central Washington Catholic Foundation (CWCF). Evan S. Jones, of Richland, takes the helm for the 2008-2009 fiscal year during a time of national economic uncertainty.

Working for Pacific Northwest National Laboratory in Richland, Jones and his wife Sue have lived in the Tri-Cities for over 25 years.

The couple has three children – two girls and a boy. The oldest attends Gonzaga University, in Spokane, while the other two continue attending school in the Tri-Cities.

Before joining the CWCF Board of Trustees, Jones volunteered as President of the Christ the King School Board, Chair of the school's finance committee, and Co-Chair with Sue for the Christ the King's annual Sausage Feast.

Epocas como la actual, de grandes perturbaciones, exigen la ayuda de la CWCF

En estos tiempo de grandes perturbaciones económicas la Fundación Católica de Washington Central, durante el último trimestre entregó $ 96.050.49 en donaciones y becas a causas católicas de gran trascendencia. – el mayor desembolso hecho por la Fundación Católica en su corta historia.

Este trimestre, por primera vez, la Mesa Directiva tomó la decisión de apoyar tres peticiones específicas hechas por personas que no son nuestros beneficiarios ordinarios. Estas donaciones específicas tuvieron como destinatarios causas Católicas de primera importancia en nuestra Comunidad de Washington Central.

El Programa de Vivienda de las Caridades

Católicas recibió $ 1.500 para un laboratorio de computadores en la Casa Guadalupe en el Condado de Chelan. El Ministerio Juvenil Reach en Cowiche recibió $ 1.500 para computadores portátiles para el personal. En Ellensburg la Iglesia Católica de San Andrés recibió $ 475 para un software para los archivos de los programas parroquiales y para el Programa de Educación Religiosa.
